BEEKEEPING ADVICE

Most state agricultural colleges have an extension entomologist who spends at least part of his time advising beekeepers in his state. To get the name of the person responsible for beekeeping in your state, contact your state agricultural college or your state agricultural extension service. In addition, an up-to-date, state-by-state list of Who's Who in Apiculture is published in the April Gleanings in Bee Culture.

For suppliers of bees and queens see advertisements in the American Bee Journal and Gleanings in Bee Culture.
